The Politics of Resource Relations, Identity and Autonomy in Dalit Woman Testimonies of Kerala

M.P Sageera

Social Subjectivity of an individual is formed primarily through his or her access to resources. The basis of existence is fixed in the availability of resources. It is in connection with one's capacity to choose from the natural and socio-cultural resources that social hierarchies are created. The proximity and distance from resources defines the hierarchies of a society. This paper explores the connection between hierarchies of subjectivities and resource-relations in autobiographical narratives. Specifically the autobiography of Adivasi Dalitwoman and the connected contexts provide the paper its main premises. One of the most important autobiographical narratives in that respect is CK Janu's C.K Januvinte Jeevitha Katha (2003).

C k Janu is a social worker and activist who hails from the Wayanad District of Kerala. She is the leader of Adivasi Gothra MahaSbha, a social movement that has been agitating Kerala since 2001 for redistribution of land to the landless tribal people in Kerala. Janu led many protests and movements through the state such as Kudilketti Samaram (2001), Muthanga Samaram (2003), Aralam Farm Protests, Nilpu Samaram (2014), Hunger Strike etc. All these protests were made for the welfare of Adivasis and have succeeded in distributing hectares of lands to nearly 10,000 tribal families and ownership in forest lands. She was honoured 'The Best schedule Tribe Social worker' in 1994 by state of Kerala.

M-LEARNING IN HIGHER EDUCATION: PROSPECTS & CHALLENGES

Badisha. V
Asst. Professor,
T. M. G. College Tirur

1. Introduction

The rapid growth of information and communication technologies and rising computer knowledge of the students make possible the development of society in the twenty-first century. There is 3.3 billion Smartphone users in the world today, 42.78% of the world's population have a Smartphone today. Over 4.33 billion people were active internet users as of July 2019, (56%). The development of e-Learning in education provides a way of new technologies in modern education systems. M-learning also known as mobile learning is a new way to access learning content using mobile devices. M-Learning is more interactive, involves more contact, communication and collaboration with people. Students will understand the content better, and will be motivated to do well, if they are supplemented with m-learning. M-learning is convenient as it is accessible from virtually anywhere. Sharing is almost instantaneous among everyone using the same content, which leads to the reception of instant feedback and tips. M-learning also brings strong portability by replacing books and notes with small devices, filled with tailored learning contents. M-learning has the added benefit of being cost effective. Despite of all the prospects, there are some challenges to be faced at the time of implementation of m-learning system. This paper tries to identify the prospects and also the challenges of m-learning.

2. M-learning

Mobile learning is the ability to obtain or provide educational content on personal pocket devices such as PDAs, smart phones and mobile phones.

حسن عبد الله القرشي:
شاعر القضايا السياسية

الدكتور زين الدين ب ت

60

حسن عبد الله القرشي أحد أعلام الشعر العربي الحديث في
التربية العربية ولد القرشي في مكة المكرمة سنة ١٩٢٦ واشتغل في
سلك الدبلوماسية السعودية وتقلد من منصب السفير في الوزارة
الخارجية السعودية. تفرغ لأعماله الثقافية ونشر الكتب وكان عضوا
في مجمع اللغة العربية في القاهرة وفي عمان في الأردن وفي دمشق في
سورية وانتقل إلى جوارية سنة ٢٠٠٤م تاركاً وراءه من الأدب
شعرا ونثرا. لا يزال الدارسون والباحثون منصرفين إليه. كان القرشي
شاعرا وكاتبا وقاصا وباحثا وناقدا ومسرحيا. هذا الكتاب يقدم هذه
العنقودية الأدبية من المملكة العربية السعودية إلى القراء ويقرب
أنواع الأدبية ونظرياته الشعرية وتجاربه الفنية من محبي اللغة
العربية وأدائها. هذا العمل يضيئ الطريق إلى دراسة الأدب العربي
السعودي الذي يتغير بظواهره الخاص بين أداب اللغة العربية في
مختلف أقطار الوطن العربي.

Abstract

The paper considers an inventory system in which demand occurs according to a Bernoulli process and service time follows geometric distribution. Maximum level of inventory is 2. In order to obtain the closed form solution in the steady state, we assume zero lead time. We obtained explicit expressions for steady state probability vector. We analyzed the inventory cycle and obtained some important performance measures. Finally, cost analysis is also included.

1 Introduction

Almost all queueing models in literature before 1990 were discussed on the basis of continuous time Markov chain. The only models such as M/G/1 and GI/M/1 were studied on the basis of embedded Markov chain as discrete time models. Such kind of models were discussed in Kendall [7] and [8]. The other discrete time models later studied by Galitsky and Wheeler [6]. Defermos and Nantz [4] discussed a basic example of a single server queue in discrete time and analyzed the time dependent behaviour of the queue in terms of a bivariate Markov chain.

ABSTRACT

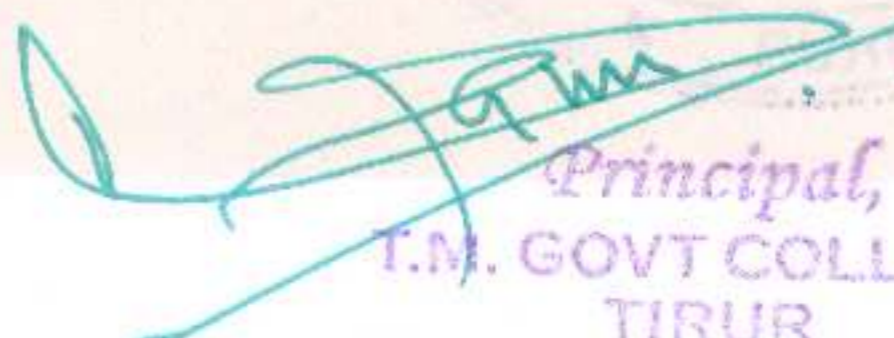

In accordance with the developing countries, employee resilience plays a vital role in deciding the satisfaction level of employees working in an organization. Managing one's stress and facing the actual situation in a positively way entirely depends upon the resilience level of an employee. The aim of the study is to find out the level of employee resilience and employee performance among employees of IT sector and to find out the relationship between employee resilience and employee performance. It is a survey study which used simple random sampling techniques for collecting the data from the sample. The sample for the study includes 100 employees from IT sector with special reference to Mysore. Tools used for data collection includes Employee Resilience Scale and Employee Performance Scale. The statistical techniques used are mean, standard deviation, and correlation. Findings showed that there exists a high level of resilience and employee performance among the employees of IT sector. It revealed that there exists a positive correlation between the employee resilience and employee performance.

1. INTRODUCTION

The concept of employee resilience has recently received increased attention. Any organisation can flourish and succeed only if they can satisfy its employee who is the major contributors of the sustainability of any organisation. Employee resilience is a ability of employees working in an organization to positively adjust, accommodate and adopt in challenging
